My Github Repository Page

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying a GitHub repository page. The browser's address bar shows the URL `github.com/leyrick-garcia/numerical-methods-lab`. The repository name `numerical-methods-lab` is prominently displayed at the top, with a 'Private' label next to it. Below the repository name, there are statistics: 'Watch 0', 'Fork 0', and 'Star 0'. The main content area shows a list of files: `README.md` (Initial commit, 2 hours ago) and `hello.py` (Add files via upload, 2 hours ago). A 'Code' button is visible. On the right side, there is an 'About' section with a note: 'No description, website, or topics provided.' Below this, there are links for 'Readme', 'Activity', '0 stars', '0 watching', and '0 forks'. Further down, there is a 'Releases' section with the text 'No releases published' and a link to 'Create a new release'. At the bottom, there is a 'Packages' section with the text 'No packages published' and a link to 'Publish your first package'. The Windows taskbar is visible at the bottom of the screen, showing various application icons and the system clock indicating 6:30 pm on 14 Aug 2026.
